

Don't Worry!

This is a phishing simulation sent from Motivforce. Your workstation or mobile device is not impacted due to this is only a test.

Had this been real you would've been phished, risked you and Motivforce.

This type of phish is known as a Link Based Attack.
The hacker tricked you into clicking the malicious link.

Here are some things to watch out for:

Always check for grammatical and spelling errors. Most legitimate sites do not have multiple typos.

Hover over the link to see the URL destination. Does it match up with a legitimate site?

Always check the tone of the email. This email triggers an emotional response that gets you to act fast. It could be a potential scam.

Always verify the fundraiser through a reputable source before donating.